Introduction

ANSA constituent associations have the opportunity for involvement in leadership programs and impacting their communities. We at ANSA feel that those actions should not go without notice. In our efforts to reward those actions, we have created this awards and honors program.

Provided here is a booklet that contains comprehensive information about the awards and honors that ANSA offers and how to apply for them.

Deadlines: applications must be received via website submission by 11:59 pm Central Time on the deadline date listed for each award

Please Note:

- Any incomplete submissions will not be considered
- Separate applications are required for each project submitted
- Only one application will be accepted per project
- Please do not submit the same project for multiple award categories
- All applications must be submitted using the e-mail address provided on the Award application
- Certain awards do not require applications
- All awards will be submitted via email. Place name of award in subject title, include name of award and constituent association in the body of email
- All applications become ANSA property upon submission and will not be returned
- All awards will be presented at the awards ceremony on Friday as printed in the Convention brochure
- At least one representative from the winning chapter must be present to receive chapter awards and the individual applicant must be present to receive scholarship award (or appoint a designee to receive award on your behalf, with notification to the Board of Directors prior to the Awards Ceremony).

If you need any additional information about different awards or scholarships, please contact: prenursing@arknursingstudents.org
